BUILDING A STRONG TEAM

Professional football players, members of the NFL Players Association, AFL-CIO, are supported by the more than 100,000 members and retirees of Region 8 International Union, United Automobile, Aerospace & Agricultural Implement Workers of America (UAW).

Football players and UAW members understand the importance of safety. Whether on the job or on the field both fight for strong health and safety policies and regulations. Working families across the country deserve safe working conditions, access to health care, and a voice in decisions that affect their family's well-being. As we continue to navigate a global pandemic, we are resolved to make the workplace safe for all workers. Working together we strive to tackle some of the biggest problems that plague our economy, from growing economic inequality, wage stagnation, and racial and gender inequalities to eroding democracy and barriers to civic participation.

INDICATION AND IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

WHAT IS VASCEPA?

VASCEPA is a prescription medicine used:

- along with certain medicines (statins) to reduce the risk of heart attack, stroke and certain types of heart issues requiring hospitalization in adults with heart (cardiovascular) disease, or diabetes and 2 or more additional risk factors for heart disease.
- along with a low-fat and low-cholesterol diet to lower high levels of triglycerides (fats) in adults.

It is not known if VASCEPA changes your risk of having inflammation of your pancreas (pancreatitis).

It is not known if VASCEPA is safe and effective in children.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

WHO SHOULD NOT TAKE VASCEPA?

- Do not take VASCEPA if you are allergic to icosapent ethyl or any of the ingredients in VASCEPA.

WHAT ARE THE POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS OF VASCEPA?

VASCEPA may cause serious side effects, including:

- Heart rhythm problems (atrial fibrillation and atrial flutter). Heart rhythm problems which can be serious and cause hospitalization have happened in people who take VASCEPA, especially in people who have heart (cardiovascular) disease or diabetes with a risk factor for heart (cardiovascular) disease, or who have had heart rhythm problems in the past. Tell your doctor if you get any symptoms of heart rhythm problems such as feeling as if your heart is beating fast and irregular, lightheadedness, dizziness, shortness of breath, chest discomfort or you faint.
- Possible allergic reactions if you are allergic to fish or shellfish. Stop taking VASCEPA and tell your doctor right away or get emergency medical help if you have any signs or symptoms of an allergic reaction.
- Bleeding. Serious bleeding can happen in people who take VASCEPA. Your risk of bleeding may increase if you are also taking a blood thinner medicine.

Celebrate
25% risk reduction
with VASCEPA® when added to a statin*

In a study, patients treated with VASCEPA had fewer cardiovascular events (17.2%) compared to those who took placebo (22%).

Taking statins, exercising, and eating right can lower your risk of a heart attack or stroke, but not as much as you may think. Prescription VASCEPA can also reduce your risk.

VASCEPA is clinically proven to offer 25% less risk from heart attack and stroke when added to a statin.

Ask your doctor about VASCEPA today.

If you have liver problems and are taking VASCEPA, your doctor should do blood tests during treatment.

The most common side effects of VASCEPA include:

- Muscle and joint pain
- Swelling of the hands, legs, or feet
- Constipation
- Gout
- Heart rhythm problems (atrial fibrillation)

These are not all the possible side effects of VASCEPA. Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects.

You may report adverse events (i.e. side effects) or product complaints by calling 1-855-VASCEPA (1-855-827-2372), emailing AmarinMI@druginfo.com, or calling the FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

Tell your doctor if you take medicines that affect your blood clotting (anticoagulants or blood thinners).

Please see next page for Patient Information or call 1-855-VASCEPA (1-855-827-2372).

Commercially insured patients can pay as little as

$9 for a 90-day supply.†

Subject to availability. Restrictions apply. VASCEPA is covered without restriction for the majority of patients.

What is VASCEPA?
VASCEPA is a prescription medicine used along with certain medicines (statins) to reduce the risk of heart attack, stroke, and certain types of heart issues requiring hospitalization in adults with heart (cardiovascular) disease, or diabetes and 2 or more additional risk factors for heart disease. It's also used along with a low-fat and low-cholesterol diet to lower high levels of triglycerides (fats) in adults.

It is not known if VASCEPA changes your risk of having inflammation of your pancreas (pancreatitis).

It is not known if VASCEPA is safe and effective in children.

Do not take VASCEPA if you are allergic to icosapent ethyl or any of the ingredients in VASCEPA. See the end of this summary for a complete list of ingredients in VASCEPA.

Before taking VASCEPA, tell your doctor about all of your medical conditions, including if you:
- have diabetes.
- have a low thyroid problem (hypothyroidism).
- have a liver problem.
- have a pancreas problem.
- are allergic to fish or shellfish. It is not known if people who are allergic to fish or shellfish are also allergic to VASCEPA.
- are pregnant, or planning to become pregnant. It is not known if VASCEPA will harm your unborn baby.
- are breastfeeding or plan to breastfeed. VASCEPA can pass into your breast milk, and may harm your baby. Talk to your doctor about the best way to feed your baby if you take VASCEPA.

Tell your doctor about all the medicines you take, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, vitamins, and dietary or herbal supplements.

VASCEPA can interact with certain other medicines that you are taking.

Especially tell your doctor if you take medicines that affect your blood clotting (anticoagulants or blood thinners).

How should I take VASCEPA?
- Take VASCEPA exactly as your doctor tells you to take it.
- Do not change your dose or stop taking VASCEPA without talking to your doctor.
- Do not take more capsules than what is prescribed by your doctor.
  - If you are prescribed the 0.5 gram capsules, you should not take more than 8 capsules each day with food.
  - If you are prescribed the 1 gram capsules, you should not take more than 4 capsules each day with food.
- Take VASCEPA capsules whole. Do not break, crush, dissolve, or chew VASCEPA capsules before swallowing.
- If you miss a dose of VASCEPA, take it as soon as you remember. However, if you miss one day of VASCEPA, do not double your dose when you take it.
- Your doctor may start you on a diet that is low in saturated fat, cholesterol, carbohydrates, and low in added sugars before giving you VASCEPA. Stay on this diet while taking VASCEPA.
- Your doctor may do blood tests to check your triglyceride and other lipid levels while you take VASCEPA.

What are the possible side effects of VASCEPA?
VASCEPA may cause serious side effects, including:
- Heart rhythm problems (atrial fibrillation and atrial flutter). Heart rhythm problems which can be serious and cause hospitalization have happened in people who take VASCEPA, especially in people who have heart (cardiovascular) disease or diabetes with a risk factor for heart (cardiovascular) disease, or who have had heart rhythm problems in the past. Tell your doctor if you get any symptoms of heart rhythm problems such as feeling as if your heart is beating fast and irregular, lightheadedness, dizziness, shortness of breath, chest discomfort, or you faint.
- Possible allergic reactions if you are allergic to fish or shellfish. Stop taking VASCEPA and tell your doctor right away or get emergency medical help if you have any signs or symptoms of an allergic reaction.
- Bleeding. Serious bleeding can happen in people who take VASCEPA. Your risk of bleeding may increase if you are also taking a blood thinner medicine.

If you have liver problems and are taking VASCEPA, your doctor should do blood tests during treatment.

The most common side effects of VASCEPA include: muscle and joint pain; swelling of the hands, legs, or feet; constipation; gout; and heart rhythm problems (atrial fibrillation).

These are not all the possible side effects of VASCEPA. Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

How should I store VASCEPA?
- Store VASCEPA at room temperature between 68° to 77° F (20° to 25° C).
- Safely throw away medicine that is out of date or no longer needed.

Keep VASCEPA and all medicine out of the reach of children.

General information about the safe and effective use of VASCEPA. Medicines are sometimes prescribed for purposes other than those listed in a Patient Information leaflet. Do not use VASCEPA for a condition for which it was not prescribed. Do not give VASCEPA to other people, even if they have the same symptoms that you have. It may harm them. You can ask your pharmacist or healthcare provider for information about VASCEPA that is written for health professionals.

What are the ingredients in VASCEPA?
Active ingredient: icosapent ethyl
Inactive ingredients: tocopherol, gelatin, glycerin, maltitol, sorbitol, and purified water

AMY ADAMS STRUNK

CONTROLLING OWNER
AND CO-CHAIRMAN,
BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Amy Adams Strunk assumed the role of controlling owner of the team in March 2015. She also serves as the co-chairman of the franchise's Board of Directors.

In her time as controlling owner Strunk has transformed the franchise through her vision, commitment and decisions that have set the team on an ascending trajectory. She hired Jon Robinson as General Manager and Mike Vrabel as Head Coach, while installing Steve Underwood first and then Burke Nihill to the position of President/CEO. Additionally, she has annually committed significant resources to upgrade Nissan Stadium and the team's practice facility, Saint Thomas Sports Park. Strunk also continues to grow the administrative staff for the franchise with significant additions across all departments.

All those changes translated to success on the field as the Titans went from a three-win team in 2015, to 9-7 records in each of the past four campaigns, playoff berths in two of the last three years and a trip to the AFC Championship game last year. It was the franchise's first appearance in the AFC Championship game since 2002, and the streak of four consecutive winning seasons is the longest in the "Titans era" (1999-present).

In the spring of 2018, she collaborated with Nashville city officials to secure the 2019 NFL Draft for downtown Nashville. By any measure, the 2019 NFL Draft was the most successful in NFL history, drawing a record 600,000 fans to downtown Nashville over the three-day event and setting television ratings records. The Draft resulted in $224 million in economic impact and $133 million in direct spending for the Tennessee economy, which were both NFL high-water marks. In June of 2019, Strunk was honored by the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame as the "Tennessean of the Year," for her role in bringing the NFL Draft to Nashville and her work to transform the franchise into a consistent winner.

Two years ago, the Titans launched the "We Stand For" campaign, designed to bring attention to the causes that are important to the team's players, coaches and executives. In July 2019, Strunk presented $450,000 in grant funding to 10 local non-profit organizations to help aid their causes. Strunk also was a leader in the community following the tornado which struck Nashville and Middle Tennessee in 2020, stepping up to donate $1 million from the Titans Foundation to the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee to help those affected by the disaster.

One of the daughters of Titans franchise founder K.S. "Bud" Adams, Jr., Strunk was raised on football and is proud of her father's role in founding the American Football League as well as the decades of leadership he provided not only to the Titans franchise, but also to the National Football League. Her goal is to build upon that legacy and establish the Titans as one of the league's elite franchises.

An independent businesswoman for more than 30 years, Strunk is the owner and president of both Kenada Farms and the Little River Oil and Gas Company. She has been significantly involved in the family's farming and ranching businesses, including serving as the vice president of Bud Adams Ranches, Inc. These ventures provided her valuable knowledge about customer service as well as the opportunity to manage a diverse range of employees and business operations, and these experiences have shaped her management style.

"I believe in hiring good people and letting them do their jobs," said Strunk. "Everything should revolve around what's best for the Titans and not around the owner. While I talk frequently with the leaders of the Titans as I do with all of our family's companies, the people in our football operations need the control and latitude necessary to create an exciting and competitive team.

AmyAdamsStrunk.indd 8 9/4/20 3:25 PM

"Our business staff needs the same freedom in order for our organization to reach its full potential and to continue to create a first-class fan experience at Nissan Stadium. Decisions will always be made based on what is the best for the team to reach our goals of becoming one of the elite franchises of the NFL and enriching the communities of Nashville and middle Tennessee.

"Nashville is one of the most dynamic and rapidly growing cities in the nation with a very promising future," said Strunk. "We are proud to be a part of Nashville and Middle Tennessee, and we want the Titans to be a leader in providing opportunities for people and businesses in the city and the region to achieve their dreams."

Engaged in the process of improving all aspects of the franchise, Strunk has the best interest of the football team and the fans on her mind as she makes her decisions. As evidence of that engagement, the Titans have become one of the best home teams in the NFL, posting a 20-8 home mark in the last 28 games leading into the 2020 season.

Last fall, the team also broke ground on a significant addition to Saint Thomas Sports Park, which will more than double the footprint and will allow all departments to be under one roof, after spending many years spread out over multiple locations. Additionally, the team will refurbish a number of football areas that have been untouched since the building opened in 1999.

In 2016, Strunk was appointed to the NFL's Hall of Fame Committee. Her appointment continues a family legacy, as her father was a long-time member of the committee. Additionally, in 2017, Strunk was named to the Board of Trustees for the Pro Football Hall of Fame. In 2018, she added an appointment to the NFL's Super Bowl and Major Event Advisory Committee.

A graduate of the University of Texas with a degree in history, Strunk is an avid horse enthusiast whose other interests include farming, ranching, tennis and a variety of other outdoor activities. She also served as a volunteer coach of both the boys and girls varsity tennis teams at her daughter's high school.

Never one to turn down a challenge, during the 2017 offseason, Strunk accepted an invitation to skydive with members of the Army's Golden Knights to kick off draft week.

Strunk is married to her husband Bill. She has three children — Tracy, Tommy, and Blanche, who are all avid sports fans and outdoor enthusiasts. ★

BURKE NIHILL

PRESIDENT/CEO

Burke Nihill is in his fifth season with the Titans and his first as the team's President/CEO. Prior to becoming President/CEO in May of 2020, he was elevated in February to Senior Vice President/Business Operations & Chief Legal Officer. He originally joined the organization as General Counsel in 2016 and was elevated to Vice President and General Counsel in 2019.

In his previous roles with the team, Nihill oversaw the club's legal and human resources functions and worked on club initiatives related to state and local government, company culture, and general business planning and strategy for both the Titans and Nissan Stadium. During his time with the Titans, he has participated in the negotiation of club contracts with team sponsors, media rights partners, stadium vendors, and major concert and event promoters. Nihill was instrumental in Nashville's effort to secure and execute the 2019 NFL Draft. He also was tasked with overseeing the renovation and expansion of Saint Thomas Sports Park.

Before joining the Titans, Nihill gained 15 years of professional experience in several industries. He held legal and management roles at VMware, an international software company based in Silicon Valley. Prior to VMware, he served as Associate General Counsel at OfficeMax Incorporated and as a private attorney at a Chicago law firm.

Nihill received his bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Illinois Wesleyan University and his law degree with honors from Chicago-Kent College of Law.

JON ROBINSON

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT/ GENERAL MANAGER

Jon Robinson enters his fifth season as the team's general manager. He was hired in January of 2016 and was promoted in 2017 to executive vice president/general manager.

Robinson's work in his first four years helped the team go from three wins in the season prior to his arrival to four consecutive 9-7 seasons, earning playoff berths in two of the past three seasons and a spot in the 2019 AFC Championship Game for the first time since 2002. He became the fifth general manager in franchise history to have the team in the playoffs within his first two full seasons. Robinson also is the only general manger during the "Titans era" (1999-present) to oversee four consecutive winning seasons.

The roster constructed by Robinson in 2019 featured the NFL's leading rusher (Derrick Henry), the NFL's leader in passer rating (Ryan Tannehill), the leading rookie receiver (A.J. Brown) and four Pro Bowl players (Henry, Tannehill, defensive tackle Jurrell Casey, punter Brett Kern). With this success, the 2020 offseason presented a number of challenges with 15 players reaching the end of their contracts. He was able to retain many key members, including Tannehill, Henry, tackle Dennis Kelly and outside linebacker Kamalei Correa. Additionally, he extended contracts with Kevin Byard and Ben Jones, who were scheduled to reach free agency following the season, prior to the 2019 season kicking off. In free agency the team added outside linebacker Vic Beasley, cornerback Johnathan Joseph and special teamer/linebacker Nick Dzubnar. In the draft, the Titans selected tackle Isaiah Wilson, cornerback Kristian Fulton and running back Darrynton Evans in the first three rounds.

In the 2019 offseason, Robinson added key veterans to bolster the roster, engineering a trade with Miami that brought Tannehill to the team, while also adding guard Rodger Saffold, wide receiver Adam Humphries and outside linebacker Cameron Wake. Robinson also was able to keep two key contributors on the roster, re-signing S Kenny Vaccaro and Kern. On draft day, Robinson added Mississippi State defensive lineman Jeffery Simmons in the first round and Brown from Ole Miss in the second round.

Early in the 2018 unrestricted free agent signing period, Robinson targeted a pair of former New England Patriots: cornerback Malcolm Butler and running back Dion Lewis. During the 2018 NFL Draft, Robinson used trades to move up three times as he selected linebackers Rashaan Evans and Harold Landry.

During the 2017 offseason, Robinson used free agency to address needs on defense and special teams. Most notably, he spearheaded deals for cornerback Logan Ryan (New England), safety Johnathan Cyprien (Jacksonville) and special teams Pro Bowler Brynden Trawick (Oakland).

In the 2017 NFL Draft, Robinson spent first-round picks on wide receiver Corey Davis (fifth overall) and cornerback Adoree' Jackson (18th overall). It marked the first time the franchise had a pair of first-round draft selections since 1987. Overall, the members of the 2017 draft class combined for 76 games played and 42 starts as rookies.

JonRobinson.indd 12 9/4/20 3:28 PM

In his first year as an NFL general manager, Robinson's leadership and decision-making helped the Titans triple their win total from the previous season, finishing 9-7 in 2016 after a 3-13 finish in 2015. The six-win improvement tied for the most in franchise history (1967 and 1974) and doubled the previous club benchmark for the most wins in the first year under a new general manager (three by Bum Phillips in 1975).

Within the first four months at his post, Robinson pulled the trigger on several key personnel decisions. On March 9, 2016, he made his first major acquisition, swapping fourth-round draft picks with the Philadelphia Eagles in exchange for running back DeMarco Murray. The trade provided major dividends in 2016, as Murray led the AFC and ranked third in the NFL with 1,287 rushing yards.

Around the same time, Robinson began to work the free agent market. Ben Jones and wide receiver Rishard Matthews highlighted the haul, and both were instrumental in helping to transform the Titans offense into the 11th-ranked unit in the NFL in 2016. Jones started all 16 games and keyed a rushing attack that ranked third in the league, while Matthews set career highs with 65 receptions (tied for the team lead), a team-high 945 receiving yards and a team-high nine touchdown receptions. The latter number tied for sixth in the NFL and tied for ninth in franchise history.

On April 14, 2016, two weeks before the NFL Draft, Robinson and the Titans dealt the first overall pick to the Los Angeles Rams in one of the biggest trades in recent NFL history. The Titans gave up the No. 1 pick and a fourth-rounder in order to receive the 15th overall pick, two second-rounders and a third-rounder in 2016, plus the Rams' first- and third-round picks in 2017. From 1990–2015, there were seven trades involving the No. 1 overall pick, but this was the first since 2004, when the San Diego Chargers selected Eli Manning with the first pick and dealt his rights to the New York Giants.

The Titans had their hands at one point or another on 17 selections in the 2016 draft due to five different trades (including one trade in 2015), and in the end, they ended up with a class of 10 players, including four of the top 45 picks. Robinson swung a draft-day trade with the Cleveland Browns to move back up to the eighth slot to choose Michigan State tackle Jack Conklin.

All 10 members of Robinson's first draft class played in at least one game in 2016. They accumulated a total of 110 games played and 38 starts, including 16 starts at right tackle by Conklin. The eighth-overall pick capped his successful rookie campaign by being named first-team All-Pro by Associated Press. Other rookies in 2016 who made significant contributions included Henry, Byard and fifth-round wide receiver Tajaé Sharpe.

Byard earned first-team All-Pro honors and a Pro Bowl berth in his second season.

Robinson arrived in Tennessee with a wide range of experience from working his way up on the personnel side of the NFL. From 2014–2015, he served as director of player personnel for the Buccaneers and oversaw both college and pro departments as the team rebuilt its roster. The 2015 Buccaneers draft class made a significant impact, including four rookie starters: quarterback Jameis Winston, tackle Donovan Smith, guard Ali Marpet and linebacker Kwon Alexander.

Prior to joining Tampa Bay, Robinson spent 12 years with the New England Patriots, including his last five years (2009-13) as the director of college scouting. In the five years heading up their college scouting, the Patriots added a number of key components to their roster that won the Super Bowl in 2014, including wide receiver Julian Edelman, defensive back Devin McCourty, tight end Rob Gronkowski, tackle Nate Solder and defensive end Chandler Jones. He joined the Patriots as an area scout in 2002, a role he served for four seasons. Robinson then spent two years (2006-07) as a regional scout, before being promoted to assistant director of college scouting in 2008 and then director of college scouting in 2009. In his time scouting for the Patriots the team won 10 division titles, four conference titles and two Super Bowls (2003, 2004).

Robinson played three years at Southeast Missouri State as a defensive lineman after starting his college career at the Air Force Academy. Following his college career as a player, he spent one season (1998) coaching at his alma mater and three years (1999-2001) coaching at Nicholls State.

A native of Union City, Tenn., Robinson and his wife, Jaimie, have two daughters, Taylor and Bailey.

He and his wife are deeply involved in the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF), as the disease affects their oldest daughter, Taylor. In 2018, the Robinsons chaired the JDRF Gala in Nashville which raised over 1.8 million dollars for diabetes research. ★

GIL BEVERLY

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT/ CHIEF MARKETING AND REVENUE OFFICER

Gil Beverly enters his second season with the Titans and his first as Senior Vice President/Chief Marketing & Revenue Officer. He joined the team in 2019 as team's Vice President of Brand, Marketing & Communications. In this new role, he directs Ticketing, Marketing, Corporate Partnerships, digital Communications and Community Impact.

In his first season with the Titans, Beverly challenged and guided departments to find new and innovative ways to engage with fans. Before joining the Titans, Beverly worked as Vice President, Partnership Solutions for Learfield IMG-College. Prior to his experience at Learfield, Beverly served as Vice President College Sports Marketing for ESPN.

ADOLPHO BIRCH III

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT/ BUSINESS AFFAIRS AND CHIEF LEGAL OFFICER

Adolpho Birch is in his first season with the Titans as Senior Vice President, Business Affairs & Chief Legal Officer. He joined the organization in 2020 after spending 23 years at the NFL headquarters in New York.

Birch's responsibilities with the Titans include legal affairs, human resources, government relations, and business planning and strategy.

As an advisor to Commissioners Paul Tagliabue and Roger Goodell, Birch served in many senior-level roles throughout his time at the league office. Most recently, from 2015 to 2020, Birch served as the NFL's Senior Vice President of Labor Policy & League Affairs.

JENNEEN KAUFMAN

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT AND CFO

Jenneen Kaufman is in her 24th season and her 12th as Senior Vice President/CFO for the Titans in 2020. Kaufman spent her first 11 seasons as the team's controller before being promoted to Vice President/Controller in 2008.

Kaufman is responsible for financial reporting, budgeting and the Collective Bargaining Agreement audit for the franchise. She also oversees the accounting of ticket and suite sales, sponsorships and broadcast revenues, player and staff payroll, while assisting with special projects. In addition, she oversees the accounting for Nissan Stadium, including concerts, Tennessee State University football games, the Music City Bowl and other events; and served as human resources liaison for all Titans employees in Nashville from 1999-2014. ★

MIKE VRABEL

HEAD COACH

Mike Vrabel heads into his third season with the Titans after being named head coach on Jan. 20, 2018. He became the 19th head coach in franchise history.

Last year, Vrabel led the franchise to the AFC Championship game for the first time since 2002, after posting his second consecutive 9-7 mark in the regular season. His 20 wins over the first two seasons are the second highest in franchise history (Jack Pardee, 21 wins) and he became the first head coach to win multiple playoff games within the first two years. The 2019 Titans became just the third team since 1990 to start the season 2-4 or worse and reach the Championship Game (2002, Titans and 1996, Jacksonville). Last year's team ranked in the NFL's top 10 in scoring margin (eighth, +71), turnover margin (sixth, +6), offensive yards per play (fourth, 6.12), rushing offense (third, 138.9 yards per game), red-zone efficiency (first, 75.6 percent), total touchdowns (tied for third, 54) and third-down defense (eight, 36.3 percent). Individually, Derrick Henry led the NFL in rushing, Ryan Tannehill was the league's highest rated passer and A.J. Brown was the NFL's leading rookie receiver.

In his first season as a head coach, Vrabel guided the Titans to a 9-7 record and to within one game of a playoff berth, all while navigating one of the NFL's toughest schedules. The Titans played a league-high nine games during the regular season against seven eventual playoff teams, and their four wins against playoff clubs tied for the most in the league. Only New England, the Los Angeles Rams and Carolina had as many. The Titans committed only 82 penalties in 2018. Not only was that number the best in franchise history over a 16-game season, it was the lowest total by an NFL team since 2014.

The Titans improved from having the 13th-ranked NFL defense in 2017 to an eighth-overall ranking in 2018 (333.4 yards allowed per game). They finished third in scoring defense at 18.9 points allowed per game, recording their best mark since 2008. The 2018 Titans defense also ranked second in the red zone (44.7 touchdown percentage), 10th on third down (36.6 percent), sixth in passing defense (216.9 yards per game), second in touchdowns allowed (32) and first in fourth-quarter defense (65.9 yards per game).

The 2018 Titans offense relied heavily upon a strong running attack. Averaging 126.4 rushing yards per game, the team upgraded from the NFL's 15th-ranked rushing offense the year before he arrived to the seventh-ranked rushing attack in 2018.

Vrabel ascended quickly to his position as a head coach following a 14-year playing career as a linebacker with the Pittsburgh Steelers (1997-2000), New England Patriots (2001-08) and Kansas City Chiefs (2009-10). He spent three years as an assistant coach at Ohio State (2011-13) and four years on the Houston Texans staff (2014-17), including 2017 as the defensive coordinator, before he was hired to his current post by Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk.

Vrabel's accomplishments as a player included three Super Bowl wins (2001, 2003 and 2004), one Pro Bowl selection (2007) and an All-Pro honor (2007). He appeared in 206 NFL games and totaled 57 sacks, 496 tackles, 11 interceptions (one returned for a touchdown), 20 forced fumbles and nine fumble recoveries. A cerebral and versatile athlete, he also saw action as a tight end and totaled 10 touchdown receptions. Additionally, his teams advanced to the playoffs eight times (20 postseason games), with Vrabel recording eight postseason sacks and two additional postseason touchdown receptions.

Vrabel has spent his football life around accomplished leaders. After entering the NFL as a player in 1997, he played or coached under Bill Belichick, Bill Cowher, Romeo Crennel, Urban Meyer and Bill O'Brien. He gleaned attributes from each that helped form his philosophies as a head coach.

Upon arriving in Tennessee, Vrabel stated: "We want to build a culture around winning, competitiveness and toughness. Everything we do is going to be geared towards winning and being physical. We want to prepare our players so they know what to do, which will allow them to play fast and aggressive."

Vrabel likewise made his own indelible impression on the same group of coaches. Upon the trade of Vrabel from the Patriots to the Chiefs in 2009, Belichick, who coached Vrabel his entire time in New England, made this comment: "Mike Vrabel epitomizes everything a coach could seek in a professional football player: toughness, intelligence, playmaking, leadership, versatility and consistency at the highest level. Behind the scenes, Mike's wit and personality is one of the things we have all enjoyed about coming to work every day. The toughest aspect of my job is the day I stop coaching people like Mike, who did everything in his power to contribute to team success. Of all the players I have coached in my career, there is nobody I enjoyed working with more than Mike."

Vrabel joined the Titans after four seasons with O'Brien at the Houston Texans, spending the first three seasons (2014-16) coaching linebackers and one year (2017) as the team's defensive coordinator. During his time in Houston, the Texans built one of the top defenses in the NFL and experienced tremendous success as a team, earning division titles in 2015 and 2016.

In 2017, Vrabel's first year as a defensive coordinator, the Texans finished the campaign with 19 players on injured reserve. Despite the setbacks, he led the defense to the fifth-best third-down percentage in the NFL and a franchise-record 3.97 yards per carry by opponents. Houston also had 18 different players record at least half a sack and 26 players tally at least one tackle for loss.

As the Texans linebackers coach from 2014-16, Vrabel helped mold several top-notch performers within his position group, including Jadeveon Clowney, Whitney Mercilus, Benardrick McKinney and Brian Cushing. During those three seasons, the Texans defense ranked third in the NFL in yards allowed per game (319.9) and net passing yards (218.4). Houston also ranked first in third-down defense (33.6 percent), fourth in opponent completion percentage (59.5) and sixth in points allowed per game (19.8).

The 2016 Texans ranked number one in the NFL – for the first time in franchise history – in total defense, surrendering only 301.3 yards per game. The defense also gave up the fewest first downs (17.0) per game and second-fewest net passing yards (201.6) per game in the league. Clowney, Mercilus and McKinney all earned second-team All-Pro honors, while Clowney was named to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his career after posting then personal bests with 52 tackles, six sacks, 16 tackles for loss and 17 quarterback hits. Mercilus led the team in sacks for the first time in his career with 7.5 quarterback takedowns and tied for the NFL lead with four defensive fumble recoveries. McKinney led the team with a then career-high 129 tackles and became the second player in franchise history with over 100 tackles and five sacks in a season.

The 2015 Texans had the top third-down defense in the NFL, allowing a 28.5 percent conversion rate, which was the lowest percentage in franchise history and the lowest by any NFL team since the 2003 Titans (27.7 percent). The 2015 defense also set a franchise mark with 45 sacks – 22.5 of which came from Vrabel's linebacking corps. The 2015 squad also finished third in the NFL in net yards (310.2) and net passing yards (210.4) allowed per game and tied for seventh in points allowed per game (19.6). Cushing's 110 tackles led the linebacking corps and were the third-highest mark of his career. Mercilus enjoyed the best year of his career as he set a personal high with 12 sacks.

Prior to joining the NFL coaching ranks, Vrabel transitioned immediately from an NFL player to college coach. He started as the linebacker coach at Ohio State in 2011 and coached the defensive line from 2012–2013. In 2012, the Buckeyes finished the season undefeated at 12-0, and Vrabel was named Big Ten Recruiter of the Year by ESPN.com. That same season, he coached four Ohio State defensive linemen who were either drafted into the NFL or signed free agent contracts.

Vrabel was selected by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the third round (91st overall) of the 1997 NFL Draft after playing four years at Ohio State (1993-96). With the Buckeyes, he was a dominant performer, earning back-to-back All-American honors and becoming the first two-time winner of the Big Ten Conference Defensive Lineman of the Year Award (1995 and 1996). He graduated from Ohio State with a degree in exercise science.

A native of Akron, Ohio, Vrabel attended Walsh Jesuit High School. He and his wife, Jennifer, have two sons: Tyler and Carter. ★

What's TITANS CHECKING like?

Picture an All-Pro service team in your huddle 24/7, who'll jump on your phone call like a game-clinching fumble recovery.

Picture online banking that's as powerful as a 300-lb. tackle, as agile as a wide receiver, and as easy as a wide-open touchdown.

Picture a Hall-of-Fame coach working up a game plan just for you, to lead you to banking victory.

That's what it's like.

REMEMBER THE TITANS

TEAM LOOKS TO CONTINUE MOMENTUM IN 2020 FOLLOWING AFC RUNNER-UP FINISH IN 2019

On Jan. 19, 2020, the final chapter was written on a memorable season for the Tennessee Titans. Appearing in the organization's first AFC championship game in 17 years, the Titans' storybook finish came up one win shy of a Super Bowl berth.

When the Titans fell to the eventual Super Bowl LIV champion Chiefs in Kansas City, a season that began inauspiciously managed to end suddenly and prematurely. They had overcome a 2-4 start to finish 9-7 in the regular season and pave a path for a stirring playoff run. Along the way, they found a winning formula that made use of a dominant running game, a reborn quarterback in his first season with the club, and an opportunistic defense with a penchant for big moments.

Approaching the regular season finale at Houston, head coach Mike Vrabel's squad needed a victory to ensure the sixth seed in the playoffs. They got that win against the division-rival Texans, followed by road wins over the reigning Super Bowl champion New England Patriots and the No. 1 seeded Baltimore Ravens.

Since the NFL's current 12-team playoff format began in 1990, the Titans became only the third team to advance to a conference championship game after beginning the season with a record of 2-4 or worse (2002 Titans and 1996 Jacksonville Jaguars). The 2019 Titans also were the sixth No. 6 playoff seed ever to advance to a conference championship game and the first since 2010 (Green Bay Packers and New York Jets).

Tennessee earned its fourth consecutive winning record and its second playoff berth in four seasons since controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk hired Jon Robinson as general manager. With 9-7 records every year since 2016, the Titans own the NFL's fourth-longest active streak of winning seasons. Only the Patriots (19), the Seattle Seahawks (eight) and the Chiefs (seven) have longer such streaks.

VRABEL, TITANS PERSEVERE

Following an impressive 43-13 win at Cleveland in the season opener, the Titans lost four of their next five contests, including a shutout at Denver on Oct. 13. At 2-4, there was little indication that the Titans would be playing well into January.

With a home date against the Los Angeles Chargers next on the schedule, Vrabel made the decision to insert eighth-year veteran quarterback Ryan Tannehill into the starting lineup for the first time since he arrived in Tennessee. The players responded, narrowly defeating the Chargers 23-20 in a game that came down to a last-minute goal-line stand. Tannehill passed for 312 yards and two touchdowns.

Including the win over the Chargers, Tennessee earned six victories in a seven-game stretch, perhaps none more memorable than a 35-32 edging of the Chiefs on Nov. 10. In one of the most thrilling finishes in Nissan Stadium history, Tannehill completed a game-winning 23-yard touchdown pass to Adam Humphries, and the outcome was preserved by Joshua Kalu's block of Harrison Butker's 52-yard field goal attempt as time expired.

With three games remaining in the regular season, the Titans hosted the Houston Texans on Dec. 15 in a battle for first place in the AFC South. Running back Derrick Henry had just recorded his fourth consecutive 100- yard rushing performance but was limited during the practice week with a hamstring injury. The Texans took advantage, keeping Henry under the 100-yard mark (86) and winning 24-21 to provide Houston the momentum it needed to secure the division title.

Two weeks later, it was Houston's turn to host the Titans. With the Titans a win away from Vrabel's first playoff berth as a head coach, Henry provided a signature 211-yard, three-touchdown rushing performance on his way to the league rushing title, and rookie wide receiver A.J. Brown added 124 yards and a score. The Titans prevailed 35-14 and claimed the AFC's final playoff seed.

With a win four weeks earlier at Indianapolis, it marked the first time since 2007 that the Titans went on the road and defeated the Colts and the Texans in the same season.

In the wild card round, the Titans vanquished Bill Belichick, Tom Brady and the third-seeded Patriots by a final score of 20-13. Henry rushed for 182 yards, and the Titans defense shut out the Patriots in the second half. Cornerback Logan Ryan provided the exclamation point with a nine-yard interception return for a touchdown in the final minute of the fourth quarter.

The following week, the Titans were tasked with going into Baltimore to clash with the 14-2 Ravens in the divisional round. Seemingly unfazed, they never trailed after scoring the game's first 14 points, pulling away 28- 12 to clinch a spot in the AFC title game. Henry rushed for 195 yards, while Baltimore's league MVP quarterback Lamar Jackson was victimized by the Titans defense for three takeaways.

Only the Chiefs stood in the way of the Titans' first trip to the Super Bowl in 20 years. The Titans took the initial matchup two months earlier, but this time they would have to win at Arrowhead Stadium. It began encouragingly, as they grabbed first-half leads of 10-0 and 17-7. But spearheaded by the play of quarterback Patrick Mahomes, the Chiefs stormed back to take the lead late in the second quarter and ultimately spoiled the Titans' quest by a 35-24 margin. ★

AFC WILD CARD ROUND

JANUARY 4, 2020
TITANS 20, PATRIOTS 13

Derrick Henry rushed for 182 yards and a touchdown, powering the Titans to a 20-13 victory over the New England Patriots in an AFC Wild card matchup at Gillette Stadium.

Henry set franchise post-season records for rushing yards, rushing attempts and scrimmage yards, accounting for 204 of the team's 272 yards of total offense, as the Titans stunned the sold-out crowd that witnessed the end of Tom Brady's era in Foxborough.

Ryan Tannehill passed for 72 yards, including a 12-yard touchdown strike to tight end Anthony Firkser that gave the Titans a 7-3 lead in the first quarter. Henry ran for 49 yards on seven carries on the team's opening drive, providing a sign of things to come.

The Patriots regained the lead 10-7 on a five-yard rushing touchdown by receiver Julian Edelman early in the second quarter. The Titans were in danger of going into a double-digit deficit before halftime, but the defense made three consecutive stops, holding the Patriots to another field goal after they had a first and goal at the Tennessee 1. Linebacker Rashaan Evans made a pair of stops near the goal-line, including one on a Sony Michel run on third down.

Henry scored what proved to be the game-winning touchdown on Tennessee's next possession, capping a 7-play, 75-yard drive with a one-yard TD run to give the Titans a 14-13 lead with 35 seconds remaining in the first half.

There had been no scoring in the second half when Brett Kern's 58-yard punt that took up 10 of the final 25 seconds rolled down at the New England 1. Former Patriots cornerback Logan Ryan then intercepted a deflected Tom Brady Pass for a nine-yard touchdown to seal the victory with just six seconds remaining. ★

There's a reason Mountain Makins' Festival has been put on for over 40 years. It's a community tradition that is so unique it has become one of the Southeast's most popular events. Awards are just one of those things that come with the territory.

With these things in mind, it is with much regret that we have decided to postpone our beloved festival of Southern makers until October 2021. We hope you will join us then, when we will return stronger, and healthier than ever!

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF ROUND

JANUARY 11, 2020
TITANS 28, RAVENS 12

A big underdog playing on the road against the AFC's No.1 seed, the Titans took the fight to the Ravens and walked out of M&T Bank Stadium with a 28-12 win to advance to the AFC Championship Game for the first time since the 2002 season.

The victory served as some payback for previous playoff losses to the Ravens. At the end of the 2000 and 2008 seasons, the top-seeded Titans were knocked out of the playoffs by the Ravens. But this time Tennessee eliminated the Ravens after a 14-2 season in which they had an NFL-high 12 players voted to the Pro Bowl. They'd won 12 straight games before the loss to the Titans.

The Titans took control of this one early.

Quarterback Ryan Tannehill threw two touchdown passes, and he also ran for one in a game the Titans led 14-0 early. Running back Derrick Henry ran for 195 yards on 30 carries – and he also threw a touchdown pass, becoming the first player in NFL history to post three straight 180-yard rushing games.

During their fast start, the Titans made some big plays early on offense, and defense. And it continued all night.

First, safety Kevin Byard intercepted Ravens quarterback Lamar Jackson on a tipped pass that ended up in Byard's hands. After a 31-yard return, and with penalty yards added to it, the Titans took over at the Baltimore 35.

A quick drive had the Titans in position for an early score, but facing a third-and goal from the Baltimore 12, things didn't look so good. But that's when Titans tight end Jonnu Smith went up and made a remarkable juggling catch in the corner of the end zone to give the Titans a 7-0 lead. Smith's touchdown capped an eight-play, 35-yard drive orchestrated by Tannehill.

The Titans led 7-0 at the end of the first quarter. It was a good sign considering the Ravens outscored their opponents 128-31 in the first quarter during the regular season.

The Titans delivered another one-two punch at the start of the second quarter. First came a defensive stop on 4th and 1, when the defense stopped Jackson short of the yard to gain. Rookie David Long got Jackson by the ankles, and the quarterback was then swarmed by Titans defenders.

On the ensuing play, Tannehill connected with Kalif Raymond on a 45-yard touchdown pass, and it was suddenly 14-0. The play caused an eruption on the Tennessee sideline, and had Ravens fans at M&T Bank Stadium quiet, and shocked.

The Ravens got on the scoreboard with 5:52 remaining in the first half on a 49-yard field by Justin Tucker, who added a 22-yard field goal on the final play of the half to make it 14-6 at intermission.

A big swing happened midway through the third quarter, once again with both sides of the ball stepping up. Harold Landy led a group of Titans defenders that stuffed Lamar Jackson on 4th and 1 at the Tennessee 18-yard line. The Titans then produced a touchdown in an improbable way – a three-yard jump pass from Henry to receiver Corey Davis. Henry took the snap on the play, and found Davis breaking free in the back of the end zone. The touchdown was set up by a 66-yard run by Henry, and the score capped a six-play, 81-yard drive.

Then came another one-two punch, with the defense setting the table for the offense. Jurrell Casey sacked Jackson, stripping the ball from his grasp in the process. Rookie defensive lineman Jeffery Simmons jumped on the loose ball, and the Titans were in business.

Before long, they were back in the end zone on a one-yard touchdown run by Tannehill, which made it 28-6 with 4:16 left in the third quarter.

The Ravens cut the lead to 28-12 on a 15-yard touchdown pass from Jackson to tight end Hayden Hurst with 11:04 left in the game.

But the Titans refused to be denied, putting the game away down the stretch. Casey had two sacks in the game, and the Titans made it tough on Jackson, who was later named the NFL's 2019 MVP, all night. ★

TITANS FALL SHORT IN AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

JANUARY 19, 2020 • CHIEFS 35, TITANS 24

A season filled with so many high moments ended one win away from a trip to Super Bowl LIV following a 35-24 loss to the Kansas City Chiefs in the AFC Championship Game.

With a win over the Chiefs, the Titans had a chance to join the 2010 Packers and the 2005 Steelers as the only No. 6 seeds to appear in the Super Bowl since 1990 when the NFL instituted the current 12-team playoff format.

But after battling back from a 2-4 record at the beginning of the season and winning in must-win situations so many times, the Titans couldn't finish the way they wanted to.

The Titans saw an early lead evaporate on a cold day at Arrowhead Stadium, where the temperature was 17 degrees at kickoff with a wind chill of five degrees. Tennessee jumped out to an early 10-0 lead, but trailed 21-17 at the half and found itself digging out of a deeper hole in the second half.

Henry, dominant in the first two games of the postseason, was held in check on a day he finished with 69 rushing yards on 19 carries, but ran the ball just three times for seven yards in the second half.

Ryan Tannehill completed 21-of-31 passes for 209 yards and two touchdowns in the contest.

The Titans took a 3-0 lead in their opening possession on a 30-yard field goal by kicker Greg Joseph, which capped an eight-play, 58-yard drive. Tannehill completed passes of 37 yards (to A.J. Brown) and 12 yards (to Corey Davis) on the drive, but the Titans had to settle for a field goal after reaching the Kansas City 12.

When the Titans got the ball back, Henry, who lined up in the "Wildcat" formation, finished off a nine-play, 58-yard drive with a four-yard touchdown run to make it 10-0. A 22-yard pass from Tannehill to tight end Jonnu Smith set up the Henry run. Tannehill's three-yard pass to receiver Adam Humphries on fourth-and-two from the Kansas City 29 kept the drive alive.

After the Chiefs cut the lead to 10-7 on an eight-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Patrick Mahomes to receiver Tyreek Hill, the Titans surged back ahead 17-7 on a one-yard touchdown pass from to Tannehill to tackle Dennis Kelly, who lined up as an eligible receiver on the play. The touchdown capped off a 15-play, 75-yard drive that took 9:07 off the clock. It was Kelly's second touchdown reception of the season.

But the Chiefs responded with a pair of touchdowns to close out the first half, first scoring on a 20-yard pass from Mahomes to Hill to make it 17-14 with 4:03 remaining in the first half.

When the Chiefs got the ball back, Mahomes scored on 27-yard touchdown run with 11 seconds left in the first half to give Kansas City a 21-17 lead. Mahomes tight-roped the sideline on the run and escaped past several Titans defenders to reach the end zone.

The Chiefs extended their lead to 28-17 on a three-yard touchdown run by Damien Williams, which capped off a 13-play, 73-yard drive. The score came with 14:50 remaining in the contest.

A 60-yard touchdown pass from Mahomes to receiver Sammy Watkins made it 35-17 with 7:33 left, and confetti filled the skies at Arrowhead Stadium.

But the Titans kept fighting.

A 22-yard touchdown pass from Tannehill to tight end Anthony Firkser with 4:18 left made it 35-24 with 4:18 left. It followed a perfectly executed fake punt by the Titans – a pass from punter Brett Kern to safety Amani Hooker.

After a defensive stop, the Titans got the ball back again.

But on this day, the celebration came to an end for the Titans. ★

2019 NFL RUSHING CHAMPION

DERRICK HENRY NAMED FEDEX GROUND NFL PLAYER OF THE YEAR, SECOND TEAM ALL-PRO FOLLOWING 1,540-YARD RUSHING SEASON

Titans Running back Derrick Henry was named the FedEx Ground Player of the Year for 2019 after a season in which he led the NFL with a career-best 1,540 yards and was selected to his first Pro Bowl.

Voted second team All-Pro by the Associated Press, Henry ranked third in NFL with 18 total touchdowns, and second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL with 1,746 yards from scrimmage.

Henry was a workhorse in the postseason, setting a franchise playoff record with 182 rushing yards at New England (1/4/20) before resetting it with 195 rushing yards at Baltimore (1/11/20). Henry gained 69 yards on 19 carries in the AFC title game loss at Kansas City.

Henry was the only running back in the NFL to average more than 100 rushing yards per game (102.7) this season. From Weeks 10-13, he joined Pro Football Hall of Famers Jim Brown (1985), Eric Dickerson (1984) and O.J. Simpson (1976), as well as Adrian Peterson (2012) as the only players to record at least 145 rushing yards and a rushing touchdown in three consecutive games in NFL history.

Running backs Nick Chubb (Cleveland Browns) and Christian McCaffrey (Carolina Panthers) were the other finalists for the 2019 FedEx Ground NFL Player of the Year.

As part of the FedEx Air & Ground NFL Players of the Year program, FedEx donated $20,000 to the USO in Henry's name, through FedEx Cares. These donations support the USO Pathfinder® program, which provides transition resources to assist service members and military spouses. ★

COMEBACK PLAYER OF THE YEAR

RYAN TANNEHILL LED TITANS TO 9-4 MARK AFTER TAKING OVER AS TEAM'S STARTER IN WEEK 7

Titans quarterback Ryan Tannehill was named the NFL's 2019 Comeback Player of the Year after a season in which he led the Titans to within a game of the Super Bowl.

"It's an honor to be recognized for fighting through the adversity I've had to face over the past couple of years," he said. "I am so thankful for everyone who voted for me, and all of my teammates. It wouldn't be possible without a whole group of people that surrounds me and helps me on a daily basis. It feels good after a lot of hard work to get to this point."

Tannehill led the NFL with a 117.5 rating in 2019, guiding the Titans to a pair of playoff wins — at New England and Baltimore — and into the AFC Championship Game, where the Titans lost to the Chiefs.

During the regular season, Tannehill threw for 2,742 yards with 22 touchdowns and six interceptions. He led the Titans to a 9-4 mark, including playoffs, after taking over as the team's starter in Week 7.

In January, Tannehill was selected as both the 2019 NFL Comeback Player of the Year and the 2019 Most Improved Player of the Year by the Professional Football Writers of America (PFWA).

Tannehill became just the second player since the Most Improved Player of the Year award was instituted in 2000 to receive both the PFWA Most Improved and the Comeback Player of the Year awards in the same season, joining Bengals quarterback Jon Kitna (2003).

Tannehill spent his first seven seasons with the Dolphins, where his highest passer rating in a season came during the 2016 season, when he posted a 93.5 rating. In 2018, Tannehill threw for 1,979 yards with 17 touchdowns and nine interceptions with the Dolphins, with a 92.7 rating, before being traded to the Titans in the 2019 offseason. ★

RYAN TANNEHILL TOSSES 60-YARD TD IN NFL'S ANNUAL ALL-STAR GAME

Quarterback Ryan Tannehill, running back Derrick Henry, defensive lineman Jurrell Casey and punter Brett Kern represented the Titans for the AFC in the 2020 Pro Bowl, a week after their team's season ended with an AFC Championship Game loss in Kansas City.

The all-star game was a first for Tannehill and Henry, while it was Casey's fifth Pro Bowl, and Kern's third.

Tannehill threw a 60-yard touchdown pass to Jaguars receiver DJ Chark on his first pass of the contest, capping a three-play drive, to give the AFC a 31-27 lead it never relinquished.

Henry, who led the NFL in rushing yards in 2019, finished the contest with 17 rushing yards on four carries, and also had two catches for 22 yards, including a long of 15 yards.

Kern punted once for 42 yards. He also held for extra points and a field goal for Ravens kicker Justin Tucker.

Casey was credited with a tackle and a quarterback hit in the contest.★

WE STAND FOR

SUPPORTING CAUSES, CHARITIES IMPORTANT TO ENTIRE ORGANIZATION

We Stand For supports causes and charities that are important to our players, coaches and front office. Our hope is to foster positive dialogue around the community work of our players and executives and raise awareness for the associated causes. In addition, the Club will match the charitable contributions of our players up to $250,000.

As part of the campaign, participants share testimonials in written pieces and in videos, providing a unique perspective on their lives, dating back to their childhood experiences, and share how they want to make a difference in the community.

To learn more about the campaign, visit tennesseetitans.com/westandfor.

COMMUNITY TAILGATES

As an extension of the We Stand For campaign, participating players hosted non-profits serving the Nashville community at nine of the 10 Titans home games this season. Each player was actively involved with the non-profit group he selected to host. The team provided tickets and a private tailgate, including pregame field passes. Each non-profit and community group invited children and parents from the communities they serve to participate.

GRANT REVEAL LUNCHEON

In July of 2019, owner Amy Adams Strunk announced $450,000 in grant funding to 10 local non-profit organizations. The grants ranged from $25,000 to $100,000 and supported organizations in the spaces of education, African American history and culture, social justice, diversionary and re-entry programs, immigrant outreach and domestic violence and sexual assault awareness and prevention.

Prior to the presentation of grants, head coach Mike Vrabel and general manager Jon Robinson hosted a community engagement panel with community leaders and three Titans players including Wesley Woodyard, Jurrell Casey and Delanie Walker.

"SHE'S AN AMAZING WOMAN"

CONTROLLING OWNER AMY ADAMS STRUNK CREDITED WITH CHANGING DIRECTION OF TITANS FRANCHISE

By Jim Wyatt

When Houston Oilers owner Bud Adams first made plans to move his NFL franchise to Nashville, there was plenty of uncertainty surrounding how things might work out.

Among the curious was his daughter, Amy, who had never been to Tennessee.

"I knew it was a pretty city, and I knew that my dad would be drawn to a southern city, that's just how he thought," she said. "When we did come to visit – before the team ever moved here – we came on the 4th of July and we saw the fireworks and did a few other things around town. I knew then this would be a great place."

Fast-forward a few decades plus and now it's Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk who has taken her late father's vision and done her part to make it even grander. Today, the Titans are a team on the rise, coming off an AFC Championship Game appearance last season, with four straight winning seasons heading into 2020 for the first time since the move.

And the city is in the NFL spotlight after hosting the most successful NFL Draft in league history.

Strunk was recognized as the 2019 Tennessean of the Year by the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, and she has plenty of folks singing her praises for her work in jump-starting a franchise that just six years ago had the worst record in the NFL.

"A lot of times, when you own a franchise, you often get taken for granted," NFL Network analyst Charles Davis said of Strunk. "People think: 'You've got money, and you can do this and you can do that.' But what she has done in her time at the head of the Titans organization, pulling everything together, has been impressive, and that is because of her leadership and it is because of her guidance and because of her demanding accountability.

"I think this state is very fortunate to have her leading the Tennessee Titans."

NFL commissioner Roger Goodell credited Strunk for her role in bringing the 2019 NFL Draft to the city. It came on the same day Strunk donated $100,000 to a pair of Nashville non-profits charged with fighting hunger in the community.

The 2019 draft easily shattered records for attendance, as over 600,000 fans fill the streets of Nashville for the three-day event.

AmyAdamsStrunkFeature.indd 140 9/4/20 5:27 PM

It generated a record $133 million in direct spending – a 79 percent increase over the $74 million at the 2018 Dallas event. The economic impact was another record-breaker at $224 million, also a 79 percent increase over the $125 million in 2018.

"I've gotten to know Amy," former University of Tennessee and long-time NFL quarterback Peyton Manning said of Strunk. "She has carried on her father's legacy and done some things unique with her leadership style and has the Titans in a great place.

"Bringing the draft here tells you everything you need to know about how serious the NFL is about the Titans and their fan support here. … Amy deserves a lot of credit."

When Strunk announced plans to retire the jersey numbers of Titans greats Eddie George and Steve McNair, George also praised the Titans owner, who took over as the team's controlling owner in 2015. Back then, Ken Whisenhunt was the team's head coach, and Ruston Webster was the general manager.

George said Strunk has taken the team's ownership to another level on the field, and off.

"She's an amazing woman, and she's doing it the right way," George said. "Bud had his ways, and he did it the way he wanted to do it and he was very successful. But what she is doing and how she is investing into the players and creating a culture here, and giving back to the community of Nashville, becoming a strong pillar in Nashville.

"Bringing in former players with open arms – you don't get that nowadays. Most owners and most organizations and most programs around the country, including college, are really standoffish. But to constantly pull us back in and ask our opinions on certain issues or to soak up knowledge. … She is a gracious woman, a very successful businesswoman."

Before thanking Tennesseans – from organizers to volunteers to fans – for doing their part to make the 2019 NFL Draft a success while accepting the TSHOF Tennessean of the Year award, Strunk smiled when asked about how much has changed over the years.

Strunk has not only made some big decisions on the football side – HC Mike Vrabel and GM Jon Robinson replaced former coaches and GMs – but she's also changed the look inside the building at Saint Thomas Sports Park and at Nissan Stadium, with upgrades and additions. She even changed the team's uniforms.

Along the way, she's also restored the passion and the confidence in the team's fan base.

"It just feels great," she said. "I know when I took over five years ago, some people were probably like: Who is she? What is she going to bring to our team? Is she capable? I just decided I was going to put my head down and go to work and hopefully get things straightened out and all that would take care of itself."

Needless to say, those questions have since been answered.

And the appreciation is on full display as Strunk is regularly swarmed by fans when she makes her way onto the field prior to games, or at team functions.

Strunk admits, however, she still navigates through the aisles at supermarkets in town, where she owns multiple homes, undetected on most days.

"Very few people recognize me," she said with a smile. "I bet I've had two people ever in the grocery story recognize me, so I am still kind of incognito.

"I think if there's anything to do with the football, I'm recognized right away. But when I'm just grabbing oranges, limes and lemons, I'm just there as a shopper, too."

In the future, Strunk would like to bring something else to the city.

She'd love to see the Titans on center stage.

"Who would have ever thought 20 years ago this is what (Nashville) would look like?," Strunk, thinking back to the success of the NFL Draft, said. "But I am so proud of it, and so happy to see the city of Nashville in the spotlight.

"This success will lead to bigger moments in the future," she said, "moments that hopefully include a Lombardi Trophy, and a championship parade sometime real soon." ★

UNDERWOOD RETIRES

BURKE NIHILL NAMED TEAM PRESIDENT/CEO

Steve Underwood has just about seen it all during his long career in the National Football League.

A self-described problem solver, the respected Titans executive has worked in a number of roles with the franchise, and to hear him tell it, he's loved every minute of it.

Now Underwood, who'll turn 69 in October, is ready to step away from his full-time role as President/CEO of the Titans. He's excited about what's ahead in his life, and about the man who will step in to replace him.

Burke Nihill, in his fifth season with the team, is being elevated to President/CEO of the Titans. Back in February, Nihill was promoted to Senior Vice President/Business Operations & Chief Legal Officer with the franchise.

"When I am asked what's the most important thing that I'll remember from the time I've spent in the National Football League, it will be all the great people that I have gotten to work with," said Underwood, who will remain with the team as a Senior Counselor. "Stepping away from something you love is never easy. But sooner or later, even something this good has to come to an end.

"I think Burke is a great choice for us to make. He's going to do a fantastic job. I really think he'll be just perfect."

Titans controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk, whose father "Bud," first hired Underwood to work for the franchise back in 1991, thanked Underwood for his commitment, loyalty, and professionalism. Underwood initially began working with Mr. Adams back in 1977, when he did legal work for him in Houston. Adams eventually convinced Underwood to join the franchise.

Strunk also expressed great confidence in Nihill, who held the title of Vice President and General Counsel for the team before his promotion earlier this year. Underwood informed Strunk last month he'd be retiring from a full-time role.

"Steve's remarkable 40-year Oilers/Titans career places him among the titans of professional sports executives. His dedication to our franchise is unmatched and I am glad he will remain with us as a Senior Counselor," Strunk said of Underwood.

"When Steve informed me that he was ready to step away from a full-time role, it was immediately clear to me that Burke was the best choice for the job. Since starting with the club as the General Counsel, Burke has continued to take on additional responsibilities to the point that he has become an invaluable resource and an absolute superstar for our organization. I have great confidence in him and his leadership, and I know that the future is bright for the team."

During his time with the Titans, Nihill been involved in many different facets of the organization. As Vice President and General Counsel, Nihill was responsible for the organization's legal, human resources and government relations functions. Following his promotion earlier this year, he also began overseeing stadium and facility operations.

In addition to his core responsibilities, Nihill has also taken the lead on other strategic projects for the team. He was instrumental in the effort to secure and execute the 2019 Draft in Nashville and is currently overseeing the renovation and expansion of Saint Thomas Sports Park.

Nihill joined the Titans in 2016 with 15 years of professional experience working as an attorney and strategic business counselor with companies ranging from technology startups to Fortune 500 businesses.

"I am exceedingly grateful for and humbled by this opportunity," Nihill said. "I am inspired by Amy's vision for our franchise and look forward to collaborating with my talented colleagues to serve our fans, partners, and communities. From the NFL Draft on Broadway to a magical run to the AFC Championship, last year was a special season for Titans fans, but as an organization we believe the best is yet to come.

"I also want to offer my congratulations to Steve Underwood on his retirement. Steve has been an extraordinarily generous mentor and friend to me, and I'm thankful that we will continue to benefit from Steve's experience and wisdom in his role as Senior Counselor."

Underwood's history with the team dates back four decades, and he steps away from a full-time role at a time when the franchise has climbed back into the national spotlight, fresh off a trip to the AFC Championship Game.

"To leave what's been a lifelong endeavor in good standing, it's a status few obtain in our business," Underwood said. "I've loved so many things about it, from the people to the variety of the work. I will be forever grateful for the opportunities and the experiences I've had. I'm not sure what more I could have asked for.

"For me, I think it is just a good time to make the transition. It is a good time for the club, it's a good time for our owners, and it's a good time for me and for my family more importantly. And, one of the things that makes stepping back easier, is knowing there is someone like Burke, who will do a great job, and he has great relationships of his own with other leaders.

"Any time you leave something that you love, sure (I'll miss it). But I think I'll enjoy the next chapter." ★

TITANS LEGENDS STEVE MCNAIR AND EDDIE GEORGE HAVE JERSEY NUMBERS 9 AND 27 RETIRED DURING HALFTIME CEREMONY AT NISSAN STADIUM

It was a special day at Nissan Stadium during the team's 2019 home opener against Indianapolis when franchise legends Steve McNair and Eddie George had their jersey numbers 9 and 27 retired at halftime.

Former teammates served as the Honorary 12th Titans for the game, while Taj George, Eddie's wife, performed the National Anthem prior to the game.

"Steve and Eddie will be forever linked as two of the driving forces for our team in the late 90's and early 2000's," Titans owner Amy Adams Strunk said. "This is the highest honor that we can bestow on a Titans player, and both of them are deserving for their significant contributions to our franchise." ★

TITANS WELCOME BACK 85-PLUS FORMER PLAYERS FOR HOMECOMING WEEKEND

The Titans welcomed back over 85 former players for homecoming weekend on October 27, 2019.

As part of the weekend, the Titans celebrated the 20th anniversary of the franchise's Super Bowl appearance during the 1999 season, as well as the 10th anniversary of running back Chris Johnson's 2,006-yard season in 2009.

Johnson and former Titans receiver Derrick Mason served as the Honorary 12th Titans at the team's game vs. the Buccaneers at Nissan Stadium.

During homecoming weekend, the former players met in Nashville at a Friday night function, attended a walkthrough practice on Saturday at Saint Thomas Sports Park, then reconvened at a reception the Saturday night before the game.

The players were then recognized at halftime of the team's game against the Buccaneers. ★

TITANS TUESDAY

TITAN UP FOR OUR COMMUNITY

Tuesday is traditionally the only day off for NFL players during the season, but Titans players use the day to make special appearances throughout the community including visits to local schools and Saint Thomas hospitals.

The Titans school program – implemented at both the middle and elementary school level – is focused on promoting the NFL's PLAY 60 and Fuel Up to PLAY 60 campaign.

- 7 hospital visits with 43 current Titans players
- 8 middle school visits with 24 current Titans players
- 5,060 students participated
- 13 elementary school visits
- 6,159 students participated
- 11,219 – total number of students reached through the 2019 PLAY 60 and Fuel Up to PLAY 60 school visits. ★

TITANS CARAVAN

IT'S ALL ABOUT SAYING 'THANK YOU'

The Tennessee Titans conduct an annual Caravan that travels throughout Tennessee, southern Kentucky and northern Alabama. We've visited nearly 400 cities in four states and made nearly 500 total stops. We've traveled more than 52,000 total miles and taken thousands of pictures. Our players have signed tens of thousands of autographs and shaken more than 250,000 hands at no cost to our fans. Why? Because we absolutely love our fans! That's the story behind the long history of the Tennessee Titans Caravan. It's about bringing the Tennessee Titans out to the fans of the mid-south to say thank you for your support. ★

HIGH SCHOOL COACHES CLINIC

The Titans hosted roughly 280 coaches from 52 high schools at the fourth annual Tennessee Titans High School Coaches Clinic in 2019. Coaches watched the team's OTA practice, while also spending time at the facility with Titans coaches, including head coach Mike Vrabel and general manager Jon Robinson.

"I think that if they can take away something that can help their players, if they can help their players develop and help a kid maybe go from third team to seeing some reps, or going from second team and realizing that they can be better. It's really just trying to develop the players." – Coach Vrabel

7-ON-7 PASSING TOURNAMENT & LINEMAN CHALLENGE.

The Titans welcomed more than 400 high school football players and their coaches to the practice facility for the fifth annual 7-on-7 Passing Tournament & Linemen Challenge in July. The annual tournament provides a platform for student-athletes to sharpen their athletic skills and prepare for the upcoming season in a non-contact environment. The event also includes a character development session and Linemen Challenge.

"These kinds of things don't happen everywhere. This, the (Titans) Recruiting Fair, the Coaches Clinic the team does, it's awesome and so important to high school athletics."
– Trey Perry, Mt. Juliet Head Coach

EQUIPMENT DONATION

The Titans donated brand-new helmets and shoulder pads to East Nashville Magnet High School's football team and tickets to the home opener with a private tailgate for players and coaches.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL RECRUITING FAIR

Titans partnered with the Tennessee Football Coaches Association to host the fifth annual Tennessee Titans High School Football Recruiting Fair at Nissan Stadium.

"We'll go on the road next week and come back to these high schools, now we've already got some background information on them. It really speeds up the recruiting process and gives these kids the best opportunity to be seen and be marketed by the high school coaches."
– Jason Simpson, UT Martin Head Coach

YOUTH FOOTBALL JAMBOREE

The Titans welcomed 33 youth football teams to Nissan Stadium for the team's fifth annual Youth Football Jamboree. As a fundraising event, a portion of stadium concessions and gate receipts were donated back to the youth leagues whose teams participated.

TITANS YOUTH FOOTBALL DAY CAMPS

The Titans hosted four football day camps that included 253 campers, 33 coaches and 12 former Titans players over four cities.

HONORING THE BEST

Hosted at Nissan Stadium each November, the Tennessee Titans Mr. Football Awards are presented to the top high school players – and one kicker – in nine classifications of the Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association (TSSAA). More than 400 people – including the 30 finalists, their families, coaches, school administrators and members of the media from all parts of the state – attended the 2019 dinner and awards presentation.

HIGH SCHOOL GAME OF THE WEEK, COACH OF THE WEEK AND COACH OF THE YEAR

Now in its fifth year, the High School Game of the Week initiative brings schools and communities together by inviting fans to participate in the selection of the High School Game of the Week. Each week of the high school football season, four of the most competitive games across the state are nominated for Game of the Week. The matchup with the most votes is dubbed Game of the Week, with the winning head coach named the Coach of the Week. Each Coach of the Week receives a $1,000 grant to benefit his football program. The Coach of the Year, selected from a pool of nine finalists, receives a $2,000 grant. More than $230,000 has been donated to date through the Coach of the Week program, with more than 3.88 million votes cast in the five years of the Game of the Week program. ★

TITANS HELP HOLIDAY SEASON SHINE BRIGHTER

FEEDING HOMELESS AMONG SEVERAL TEAM AND PLAYER INITIATIVES OVER HOLIDAY SEASON

For the sixth year in a row, the Titans teamed up with The Bridge Ministry to feed the homeless a Thanksgiving meal. Roughly 100 members of the organization – from players to coaches to members of the front office – took part in the event. So did other staff members, along with the Titans cheerleaders, members of the Blue Crew drumline, and T-Rac. Family members joined the group as well.

An estimated 500 men, women and children from the homeless community turned out to also receive clothing, toiletry items and non-perishable items.

"Outside of us winning ballgames on Sundays, this is one of my favorite nights of the year," Titans GM Jon Robinson said.

Added head coach Mike Vrabel: "I learned last year that under this bridge there's faith, there's hope and there's love. I am proud of our organization, our players, for what they do off the field," he said to those in attendance. "We want to share this holiday season with you guys and wish you a happy Thanksgiving.

Each year, the Titans host several community events and programs designed to help the holiday season shine a little brighter for those less fortunate. Along with the Bridge Ministry, the Titans conducted two toy drives benefitting Toys for Tots and Metro Nashville Police Christmas Charities, and joined in a partnership with the Northwest Family YMCA to provide gifts to families on their angel tree.

In addition, the team hosted a Christmas shopping trip for 65 East Nashville High School football players, while four Titans players also hosted their own holiday-related charity events. Players also brightened the spirits of patients at Saint Thomas Midtown Hospital over the holiday season. ★

LIVING UNITED

A cornerstone community partner of the NFL and the Titans, United Way brings people and organizations together to create a community where individuals, families and neighborhoods thrive.

The Titans and United Way of Metro Nashville teamed up to host the fifth annual Titan Up for Tots Community Baby Shower. At team headquarters, players, coaches, staff and cheerleaders assembled 2,000 diaper bags to distribute to at-risk mothers throughout the Nashville community. A total of 8,500 diaper bags have been delivered since the inception of the event in 2015.

Last year's Stuff the Bus campaign provided roughly 11,000 Metro Nashville public school students with brand new backpacks to start the school year off right. Prior to distributing the backpacks, 1,200 volunteers gathered at Nissan Stadium to fill the backpacks with brand new school supplies. Teachers also received boxes full of supplies for the school new year. ★

T-RAC, PLUS BIG BROTHERS BIG SISTERS OF MIDDLE TENNESSEE

This past season, Titans mascot T-Rac partnered with Big Brothers Big Sisters of Middle Tennessee on a new gameday initiative to bring awareness to the importance of mentorship and recruit new mentors and bigs. At each Titans home game, a big and little duo were introduced with T-Rac during his pregame intro. The initiative helped recruit nearly 100 potential new bigs to their program. ★

RUNNING BACK KHARI BLASINGAME

Cause: Turner's Heroes
Shoe size: 14

Titans running back Khari Blasingame lost a teammate, and a friend, while at Vanderbilt.

He paid tribute to him – and Turner's Heroes – with his cleats.

Blasingame honored his late Vanderbilt teammate, Turner Cockrell, through his cleat design. During Cockrell's sophomore year at Vanderbilt, he started to notice two lumps growing on his neck. It turned out that Cockrell had melanoma, a type of skin cancer. After a year-long battle of extensive surgeries, radiation and immunotherapy treatments, Turner passed away on November 28, 2018.

LINEBACKER JAYON BROWN

Cause: YMCA Community Action Program (aka YCAP)
Shoe size: 13

As a youngster growing up in California, Jayon Brown learned a lot of life lessons at the YMCA. Now, he wants to give back to kids who are starting their own path, in the YMCA. Brown's cause is the YMCA Community Action Program (aka YCAP), which his recently-announced MVP Program is a part of in Nashville. The student Y-CAP program helps at-risk and underserved youth in the Metro Nashville/Davidson County area achieve the brightest future possible by closing the opportunity gap.

SAFETY KEVIN BYARD

Cause: The Byard Family Legacy Fund Foundation
Shoe size: 11 ½

Safety Kevin Byard has made a big difference on the field since joining the Titans back in 2016. Now, he wants to make an even bigger difference off the field.

Byard and his wife, Clarke, recently started the Byard Family Legacy Fund Foundation. He brought awareness to the cause with his cleats, and by his work in the Middle Tennessee area.

LINEBACKER RASHAAN EVANS

Cause: Razor Foundation
Shoe size: 14

On the field, Titans linebacker Rashaan Evans makes a living making tackles. Off the field, he wants to tackle help mental illness, and bring awareness, through his Razor Foundation. Mental health awareness is his cause for My Cause My Cleats.

RECEIVER ADAM HUMPHRIES

Cause: Vertical Sports
Shoe size: 11

Titans receiver Adam Humphries has his buddy's back – on his shoes.

In making Vertical Sports his cause, Humphries wants to bring awareness to an endeavor started by his childhood friend from Spartanburg, South Carolina. The project is an important one, as it reaches out to the broken, whether it's through prison visits or after school programs for underprivileged kids.

RUNNING BACK DERRICK HENRY

Cause: Two All Foundation
Shoe size: 14

Running back Derrick Henry has made a huge difference for the Titans on the football field. He also wants to make a difference off the field, using his foundation – Two All Foundation, which exists to level the playing field for today's youth. It is a resource that impacts communities and equips young people to reach their full potential by instilling strong core values and providing support to all adolescents in need.

CENTER BEN JONES

Cause: The Jones Mission

Shoe size: 15

Titans center Ben Jones wants to make a difference in the lives of today's youth.

Jones established The Jones Mission Fund at The Community Foundation back in 2017 to provide at-risk youth with opportunities they might otherwise not have through grants, additional resources and educational opportunities.

He raised awareness with his cleats.

TACKLE DENNIS KELLY

Cause: FARE (Food Allergy Research and Education)

Shoe size: 17

Titans tackle Dennis Kelly had heard stories about people living with food allergies. When his young daughter was diagnosed with a food allergy, it really opened his eyes to the issues surrounding the condition. Kelly's cause for My Cause My Cleats is FARE (Food Allergy Research and Education). He wants to bring more attention to everything surrounding food allergies in an effort to help those dealing with allergies.

TACKLE TAYLOR LEWAN

Cause: The Chris Long Foundation (Waterboys)

Shoe size: 14

Titans left tackle Taylor Lewan wants to make a difference in an area he believes is overlooked. A few years back, Lewan was approached by long-time defensive end Chris Long to help him his efforts in an endeavor called "Waterboys."

Lewan got involved, and it's his cause for My Cause My Cleats. Waterboys unites NFL players from across the league in service. As Waterboys, players team up with fans in support of a single shared cause: providing clean, accessible drinking water to communities in need.

DEFENSIVE BACK CHRIS MILTON

Cause: Edith Marie Foundation

Shoe size: 12 1/2

Titans defensive back Chris Milton lost his grandmother to breast cancer. But she remains in his memory, and he honored her with his cleats. Milton's cause is the Edith Marie Foundation. It's a foundation started by his family to honor a woman who was dear to everyone.

OFFENSIVE LINEMAN DAVID QUESSENBERRY

Cause: Special Operations Warrior Foundation

Shoe size: 15

Titans offensive lineman David Quessenberry wants to bring even more awareness to a cause that's important to him, and someone he cares a lot about.

Special Operations Warrior Foundation provides a post-secondary education to the surviving children of fallen special operations service members.

CORNERBACK TYE SMITH

Cause: Metro Nashville Public Schools

Shoe size: 11 1/2

Titans cornerback Tye Smith wants to do his part to help kids in the Metro Nashville Public School system. He's partnered with ABC Food Tours, which was started up by a friend. He brought attention to the cause with his cleats. ★

A VERY SPECIAL VISITOR

FRANCHISE-GREAT EARL CAMPBELL VISITS TITANS PRACTICE

Houston Oilers great Earl Campbell is 64 years old, but he experienced a first last season.

Campbell gave a motivational message to the Titans during his first visit to Saint Thomas Sports Park, but that's not all.

"Heck, this is the first time I've ever been in Tennessee," Campbell said as he watched practice. "People say they can't believe it as much as I love country music – Willie Nelson is one of my best friends. But this is my first time in the state of Tennessee.

"I like it here. I like the air, I like the hills and I'm enjoying watching this practice, putting faces to what you see. This setup kind of reminds me of my days with the Oilers. I hope they like me because I plan on hanging around."

It's safe to say the Titans enjoyed having Campbell, in town for an autograph signing, around.

Titans coach Mike Vrabel introduced the Hall of Fame running back to the football team at the end of practice, and Campbell delivered a message to the players before they introduced themselves to the rushing legend. Campbell watched practice in a golf cart before being driven into the middle of the team's huddle.

"We talk about being physical," Vrabel said as he introduced Campbell, "and I said, 'We have one of the most physical players ever (right here)."

Campbell had a message for the Titans as he addressed the team.

"You get in a habit to win," Campbell told the players. "You are here because you are a winner – win more. It takes a lot to be just a football player, and it takes a lot to be a pro football player. It takes a hell of a lot to be great, and the way you get to be great is because the whole team wants to be great. It is a team effort. I wish you guys the best."

Campbell found Derrick Henry and congratulated him on his success. With a smile, he also instructed Henry to use his stiff-arm more.

"I've been watching Derrick Henry since he was at Alabama," Campbell said. "I like what he does. He's a big-time running back. That dude can play some football, I've seen him do it."

One by one Titans players introduced themselves to Campbell, a five-time Pro Bowler, Pro Football Hall of Famer and Heisman Trophy winner who ran for 8,574 yards and 73 touchdowns while playing from 1978-84 with the Oilers. Campbell played his final two NFL seasons with the Saints and finished his career with 9,407 yards and 74 touchdowns.

Campbell kidded Titans quarterback Ryan Tannehill about his success vs. Texas A&M, and how it helped him win the Heisman back in 1977. He chatted with rookie A.J. Brown and wished him luck as well.

Equipment manager Paul Noska showed Campbell a photo of the two from way back 1983. After reuniting, Noska gave Campbell two bags of Titans gear to wear back in Texas.

Campbell said he's a fan of the Titans and wished the team well.

He was also happy to see the team retire the uniform numbers of Titans greats Eddie George and Steve McNair, joining a select group that includes Campbell.

"Both are very deserving," Campbell said. "And Eddie has become a close friend."

Campbell believes the Titans are on the verge of something special in Tennessee.

"I think they have some quality players on this football team, and I really do think they're on the verge of getting over the hump," Campbell said of the Titans. "They are not that far away – I think the Tennessee Titans are real close to making that next step. And I like the head coach, too – he has played the game and he has the respect of the guys and that's important. I can see that by watching."

"By all means I support the Titans, even though they are not in Houston any more. … A lot takes place in life and at some point you have to get over it. Even though the franchise moved, they are in Tennessee and they're the Tennessee Titans, it's still the organization I used to play for, and the Adams family." ★

TOP COMMUNITY HONOR

BEN JONES NAMED TITANS NOMINEE FOR WALTER PAYTON NFL MAN OF THE YEAR AWARD

Titans center Ben Jones was the team's 2019 nominee for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award. Considered one of the league's most prestigious honors, the award recognizes an NFL player for outstanding community service activities off the field, as well as excellence on the field.

Ben Jones and his wife, Alex, established The Jones Mission in 2017 to provide at-risk youth with opportunities they might otherwise not have through grants, additional resources and educational opportunities. Each year they host the Ben Jones Celebrity Clay Shoot, a skeet shooting tournament, to raise money for local non-profit organizations that serve the youth. Through the 2019 clay shoot, The Jones Mission was able to donate $40,000 to Endure Athletics and $45,000 to Preston Taylor Ministries, the latter of which was able to open a new location for afterschool programs.

Additionally, each year Jones sponsors a trip to a Titans game for the seniors on the football team of his former high school, Bibb County High School, in Centreville, Ala. The experience includes round-trip transportation, tickets, a private tailgate, swag bags, a meet-and-greet with Jones, as well as a tour of the Titans practice facility. Jones also hosts a free 'Friday Night Lights' youth football camp in Centreville every June for kids ages eight through 14, and sponsors Christmas shopping events for families in Centreville and in Nashville.

"It's an honor to be nominated as the Titans' Water Payton Man of the Year," said Jones. "It's incredibly important to me to help kids in need and to show them that anything is possible through hard work, determination and prayer. I have been fortunate that my foundation has been able to impact the lives of kids in Nashville and Alabama." ★

BEST SPORTS CITY

NASHVILLE SELECTED #1 BY SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL FOR 2019

In December, Sports Business Journal selected Nashville as the Best Sports City in the country for 2019. The announcement came off the heels of the NFL Draft, widely considered the most successful draft in NFL history. Nissan Stadium, home of the Titans, also hosted the CONCACAF Gold Cup Semi-final game in July, the She Believes Cup in March, two USL games for Nashville SC, the Western Kentucky/Louisville football game and TSU football games. NASCAR Awards Week was also held in Nashville for the first time.

And in addition to the NFL's Titans and NHL's Predators, local colleges like Vanderbilt, Belmont, David Lipscomb and Tennessee State have also helped put the city on the map and make it a destination city for sports. ★

TITANIC EFFORT

TITANS ORGANIZATION HITS STREETS OF NASHVILLE TO HELP NEIGHBORS AFFECTED BY DEVASTATING TORNADO

The Titans loaded into buses at Saint Thomas Sports Park in early March, heading in the same direction as Nissan Stadium.

But on this day, their destination wasn't a football stadium.

Instead, it was the North Nashville neighborhoods ravaged by the deadly tornado, which displaced many of their neighbors and changed their lives forever.

On these streets, Titans head coach Mike Vrabel drove a truck full of water and supplies to those in need, general manager Jon Robinson standing on the vehicle's side running board, and Kenneth Adams IV from the ownership group crowded with other members of the organization in the bed of the white Nissan Titan.

On these streets, safety Kevin Byard stepped onto the porches and chatted with the homeowners without power, their homes severely damaged, with roofs covered by tarps. Some of the homes were completely gone.

On these streets, Titans players went to work, cutting down trees and stacking up piles of brush.

On these streets, Titans receiver A.J. Brown delivered pizzas to hungry Nashvillians. Earlier in the week, Brown experienced the storm himself while with terrified family members in his Germantown residence not far away. Brown is still without power, but he considers himself lucky.

"Your heart really goes out to the people affected," Brown said. "My heart goes out to these families."

On a Tuesday morning, tornadoes ripped across Nashville and areas to the East. At least 25 people were killed across the state, including two in Nashville.

The Titans partnered with Hands on Nashville to encourage volunteer efforts. Titans players, staff and their families volunteered on Friday, starting off just down the road from the team's facility. Later in the day, some in the organization traveled to Hermitage, another area hit by the storm, to drop off supplies.

TornadoCleanup.indd 164 9/4/20 6:17 PM

Earlier in the week, the Titans Foundation and controlling owner Amy Adams Strunk made a donation of $1 million to The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee (CFMT) following the devastation of the EF-3 tornado that swept through Nashville and surrounding areas that early Tuesday morning.

"(The coaches and players), they went to work," said Tina Tuggle, Senior Director of Community Relations. "They didn't go out there as Tennessee Titans, they went out there as members of the community who wanted to do their part while making a difference in restoring and beginning the process of rebuilding, and that was awesome to see.

"This is our community, and we want to help."

"It's people helping each other," Vrabel said. "We are just a small part of a large community that's trying to help people wherever we can."

In Nashville, the twister's path was mostly north and east of the heart of downtown, hitting areas in Bordeaux and North Nashville. Germantown and East Nashville took a direct hit, along with Donelson and Hermitage. Tennessee State University suffered major damage, along with Donelson Christian Academy.

The storm then devastated areas in Mount Juliet before eventually making its way to Putnam County, where the largest death tolls were recorded. Titans defensive lineman Austin Johnson's Hermitage home suffered major damage.

The devastation in North Nashville was eye-opening, players said.

"It is incredible (to see)," Byard said. "It is like being in a movie a little bit. You see one house on this side of the street that is completely fine, and one that is not there anymore. So to see these type of things, I have only seen it on CNN. To see the destruction … it is incredible.

"It has been truly humbling. It is truly devastating to be honest with you. My condolences to all the people who have been affected. People lost loved ones, they lost homes, they lost businesses. If you actually get out here in the streets and to walk around and talk to some of the people that live in this area, you have no choice but to be moved, emotionally and spiritually."

Academy Sports + Outdoors and Lowe's donated water, blankets, gloves, tarps and tents that were loaded into the back of Vrabel's truck and transported across the area.

In back yards, players put their gloves on and worked. Some of them brought their own rakes, and shovels.

Harold Love, pastor at Lee Chapel, lives in the district. He's also the state representative for District 58.

Standing in the parking lot of his church, Love expressed his appreciation to Vrabel and Robinson, and he also chatted with Byard, thanking him.

"The Titans mean so much to Nashville and Tennessee, so to see them here, says to the residents they are concerned about them and that they are willing to come down and lend a hand and get their lives back together," Love said. "It is a blessing. You cannot put a measure on how significant that was today. We are really grateful."

Robinson, who was born and raised in West Tennessee, said the team was happy to help any way it could.

He called the scene "gut-wrenching."

"We want to try and bring them a little bit of hope, try and get them some supplies, and try and lend a hand wherever we can for this community, for this city, and the great people that live in it," Robinson said.

"That's what Tennessee is all about, right? We're the Volunteer state, we are family, we are here for each other. Growing up rural West Tennessee, the devastation in the city is brutal, but I can only imagine out in Putnam County, similar to an area where I grew up, where it is rural and you don't have a whole lot of notice … out thoughts and prayers go out to everybody affected by the storm." ★

HOW FORMER TITANS SAFETY MYRON ROLLE PLAYED DEFENSE AGAINST CORONAVIRUS

NEUROSURGERY RESIDENT VOLUNTEERED TO TAKE PART IN THE FIGHT AGAINST COVID-19

As a football player, former Titans safety Myron Rolle loved game days.

These days, however, game days are much different for Rolle, a third-year neurosurgery resident at Boston's Massachusetts General and Harvard Medical School.

Rolle, 33, volunteered to take part in the fight against COVID-19. He was part of a massive redeployment effort at the hospital, where the neurosurgery floor he's spent so much time in was transitioned to a COVID-19-only floor.

Rolle sent his wife of just four months to be with her family in Georgia so she'd be out of harm's way. Meanwhile, he spent his days in the middle of the danger, helping patients any way possible while his work as a neurosurgeon took a backseat while working shifts in the COVID-19 surge clinic.

"I am used to my daily life, going in, taking out a brain tumor, fixing a degenerative spine, doing the neurosurgical operations and interventions that I am passionate about, and studied and trained for," Rolle said. "That's on the backburner now because these elective cases have been canceled or postponed and now it's about volunteering your time to be a part of the surge clinic and take care of these COVID-19 patients who are coming in off the streets, or being redeployed to different parts of the hospital to help COVID-19 patients, or taking care of our own neurosurgical patients who have COVID-19 or are being tested."

A sixth-round pick in the 2010 NFL Draft by the Titans, no challenge has ever been too big for Rolle, who skipped his senior season at Florida State to study medical anthropology for a year at Oxford University. Rolle received the Rhodes Scholarship to attend the school. In 2010, Rolle was chosen as the second-smartest athlete in sports by the Sporting News.

Rolle spent the 2010 season on Tennessee's practice squad, and after playing in four games for the Titans in the 2011 preseason, he was released. Rolle finished his career with the Steelers in 2012. While he never played in a regular season game, Rolle said his memories with the Titans remain with him today.

"My time with the Titans, it's a time in my life I'll never forget, that I'll always cherish. I have so many great memories from my days as a Titan. Those guys, they'll always have a special place in my heart."

A third-team All-America performer at Florida State, Rolle said he looks back at his football-playing days for mental and physical strength, and that's what's been needed during some scary times at Massachusetts General, and across the world.

Rolle said his new daily routine consisted of putting on a facemask and using hand sanitizer before being funneled through a security line similar to what he's seen at airports. He was checked for COVID-19 symptoms each time he entered the building.

He described floors at the hospital transformed into coronavirus units, and the efforts to protect staff from infection. Among other things, Rolle worked in the hospital's surge clinic, triaging patients off the streets alongside other volunteers from all corners of the hospital.

Rolle said he prayed at night for strength, and for the scientists searching for answers.

"The hype is real, so people need to do their part: Stay at home, keep social distance, wear masks when you go outside," he said. "People need to do their part while people in the healthcare world are doing their part."

And, of course, more prayers.

"I ask God to continue to cover me as I go into the hospital every day and expose myself to potential harm and danger," Rolle said. "And I also ask Him to let me continue to help people the best way I can, because that is what I want to do. ★

Nissan Stadium joined more than 150 iconic U.S. buildings by lighting up blue in appreciation of first responders, healthcare workers and essential staff battling in the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Originating in the UK, the #LightItBlue volunteer effort was organized in the U.S. by leaders from the events and entertainment industry as a thank you to first responders, healthcare workers and essential staff battling the virus.

Among the buildings participating included One World Trade Center and Madison Square Garden in New York City, Millennium Monument in Chicago, L.A. LIVE in Los Angeles and many other iconic venues, including several NFL and professional sports stadiums.

Nissan Stadium lit up blue with a special thank you graphic on its video boards until midnight. Other Nashville venues participating included BNA Airport, Bridgestone Arena, Metro Courthouse, Korean War Veterans Memorial Bridge and the AT&T Building. ★

The Blue Angels flew over Nashville to salute and thank all healthcare workers, first responders and other essential personnel serving on the front lines of the fight against COVID-19 as part of the "America Strong" initiative.

The flight in mid May started in Rutherford County in Silver Hill, through Walter Hill and down to Murfreesboro. From there, the jets made their way to Smyrna, through Nolensville and over to Franklin.

Next, they went through Brentwood and made their way to Nashville, before circling back to Belle Meade, back again over Nashville and the Brentwood area before leaving Middle Tennessee. ★

MIKE KEITH TO BE INDUCTED INTO TENNESSEE RADIO HALL OF FAME

"VOICE OF THE TITANS" JOINS 2020 CLASS AFTER STELLAR CAREER WITH TITANS AND VOLS

Mike Keith thought he was walking into the studio at Saint Thomas Sports Park in March to interview Hall of Famer Steve Hutchinson.

Instead, the Voice of the Titans got a surprise – Keith is heading into the Hall of Fame himself.

The Tennessee Radio Hall of Fame announced Keith as a member of the Class of 2020. Bob Kesling, the voice of the Vols and TNRHoF Board Member, surprised Keith with the news with his family and friends watching.

"To say I'm surprised would be an understatement," Keith said. "To know that the people who pick this are the peers that I respect the most in the business, because they're my colleagues in the state of Tennessee, that's what means the most. Because of all the people that I've always sought approval of, it's been the people in this state who are also in the business. So if they think enough of me for this, it's beyond humbling.

"There are a lot of great broadcasters that have come from this state, and there are a lot of them that are in this state now, and I respect them so much. When I drive, I listen to them and I marvel at how good they are. For them to think I do a good job is unbelievable special."

It's just the latest honor for Keith, a Battle Ground Academy graduate who worked as a student for the University of Tennessee's Vol Radio Network. Keith began working for the Titans (Houston Oilers) in 1996 and in 1999 became the play-by-play announcer.

Keith has been named as Tennessee Sportscaster of the Year 11 times since 2000, has won over 20 Associated Press state awards and has captured two national honors, including the industry's most prestigious award: the Edward R. Murrow Award for nationwide excellence in sports reporting.

"I remember when you got started in Knoxville," Kesling told Keith after delivering the news. "You were so eager to do anything. We did a lot of things together, and I watched you grow and grow. To come over and do this and be one of the best announcers in the NFL, and to do it in your hometown, it is really special. I am so proud of you, and so happy for you."

Keith's parents, his wife, and his brother were on hand for the surprise, along with members of the Titans Radio team and members of the Titans organization.

Keith joins other legendary broadcasters like Rick Dees, George Klein, Wink Martindale, Ralph Emory, Gerry House, Coyote McCloud, and the Vols' legendary broadcasters John Ward and Bobby Denton in the Tennessee Radio Hall of Fame, which was created in 2012 to honor all of the broadcasters who have contributed their talents over the years in the state. Pat Sajak was also inducted in 2013.

Keith recently completed his 22nd season with the Tennessee Titans in 2019.

In January of 2000, Keith called one of the greatest plays in NFL history, "The Music City Miracle," a last-second touchdown that gave the Titans an improbable playoff win over Buffalo. ESPN named Keith's description of the play as one of the 10 best radio calls in American sports history.

In addition to his play-by-play duties, Keith hosts Mike Vrabel's weekly radio show and the Titans All Access television show, provides extensive on-air coverage and analysis for TennesseeTitans.com, emcees all official Titans events and speaks to civic and business groups throughout the region.

Keith also calls Tennessee state championship events as part of the Titans' relationship with the TSSAA. In addition, he regularly hosts shows on Sirius XM NFL Radio and has done play-by-play for SEC-ESPN Network.

"I started when I was 17 (years old) in 1984," Keith said. "I am truly blown away that this happened in this way, wow, especially to be from Tennessee. This really means a lot." ★

JEFF FISHER INDUCTED INTO TENNESSEE SPORTS HALL OF FAME

JOINED 2020 CLASS AFTER STORIED CAREER WITH TITANS FRANCHISE

Former Titans head coach Jeff Fisher was inducted into the 2020 Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame in August.

Fisher was formally enshrined during a two-hour Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame induction special.

Fisher was featured during a two-hour television special that was broadcast throughout the state and on Periscope, with Titans play-by-play announcer Mike Keith serving as the host of the show.

"When the Titans moved to the Volunteer State, their head coach was Jeff Fisher," Keith said. "He remained the coach for a total of 14 seasons, had a tremendous amount of success, won a lot of big games. But Jeff Fisher's impact on Tennessee – all of Tennessee – was a lot more than just about wins and losses and other stats. In the process, Jeff Fisher became Tennessee's NFL coach."

Earlier this year, Brad Willis, Chief Advancement and Operations Officer for the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, surprised Fisher with the news on 104.5-FM's Midday 180 as his long-time buddy, former Titans assistant and current Titans Radio analyst Dave McGinnis, looked on with a smile. Fisher's wife, Julie, also surprised her husband in studio.

"Thank you Mike so much for your contribution, and your part in this, to Brad Willis, to everybody with the Hall of Fame and to all the inductees and all the fans – it's an honor," Fisher said during the program. "I can't wait to live it in person once things settle down. Clearly, I am honored and humbled, and thank you once again."

An NFL head coach for 22 seasons, Fisher coached from 1994-2010 with the Houston Oilers/Tennessee Titans.

Under Fisher's guidance, the Titans made six playoff appearances, won three division titles, played in two AFC Championship Games and in one Super Bowl. He posted a 142-120 record in 16 seasons with the Titans, and he guided the Titans into the franchise's only Super Bowl appearance during the 1999 season.

NISSAN STADIUM

HOME OF THE TITANS SINCE INAUGURAL 1999 SEASON

On June 25, 2015, the Titans and Nissan North America announced the formation of a 20-year, exclusive naming-rights partnership that rebranded Nashville's downtown stadium as Nissan Stadium.

Nissan Stadium hosts all Titans home football games, Tennessee State University home football games, the Music City Bowl, international soccer games, concerts, the CMA Music Festival and numerous other events.

The procurement of naming rights to Nissan Stadium fit the automotive company's 'Fewer, Bigger, Better' marketing strategy, which has included ongoing sponsorships of NBC's The Voice, the Heisman House college football program and a major advertising presence at the Super Bowl. Nissan is also known as the official automotive partner of the Tennessee Titans.

Nissan's ever-growing footprint in Tennessee includes vehicle and powertrain manufacturing facilities in Smyrna and Decherd respectively, along with its North American headquarters in Franklin.

The Nissan Smyrna plant began operations in 1983 and employs more than 8,400 people. In 2014, the Smyrna plant assembled more than 648,000 vehicles, making it the highest volume automotive assembly plant in North America. Nissan also has a major manufacturing presence in Canton, Miss., along with research and development groups in California, Arizona and Michigan. In total, the company employs more than 22,000 employees in the U.S.

An important component of the Titans-Nissan partnership is assisting charitable organizations throughout Middle Tennessee in an array of community outreach programs. A centerpiece of this is the annual "Taste of Titans" charitable event, for which Nissan serves as presenting sponsor and which this year benefited the ALS Association, Tennessee Chapter. During the course of a 20-year relationship, a total of more than $1 million resulting from these annual events is anticipated to be distributed to local nonprofit organizations.

Nissan Stadium is a city-owned venue that has housed the Titans since 1999. The naming rights agreement included the opportunity for Nissan branding on the exterior of the stadium, as well as stadium signage and other unique displays inside the stadium. LP Building Products previously held the naming rights to the stadium since 2006. ★

BUILDING FOR SUCCESS

TITANS BEGIN EXPANSION OF SAINT THOMAS SPORTS PARK

The Tennessee Titans began construction on an expansion project at Saint Thomas Sports Park, which will almost double its current footprint in Nashville's MetroCenter neighborhood.

They celebrated with an official ground breaking ceremony on Dec. 13. Titans owner Amy Adams Strunk was joined at the ceremony by Tennessee Gov. Bill Lee and U.S. Senators Lamar Alexander and Marsha Blackburn.

The plan includes 60,000-square-feet in additions, including a new building situated along one of the practice fields, and major renovation of spaces within the existing 75,000-square-foot building. Improvements to Saint Thomas Sports Park, home to the team's practice facility and corporate office since its inaugural season as the Titans in 1999, will continue to transform the space into a modern, first-class building aimed at enhancing the production of both its football and business staffs.

Strunk, who assumed her role in 2015, has made a priority of ensuring that the team has the best tools at its disposal to perform on and off the field. In the past five years, the Titans organization has seen its staff grow by 50 percent. This increased headcount and the continuing evolution of the Titans' overall business led to the decision to develop the building.

Optimizing the workspace of the coaching staff and players is a key goal in the new office building. A revamped auditorium for all-team meetings, modernized meeting spaces for film study and a new draft room are among the items planned. These improvements come following Adams Strunk's already completed renovations to the facility, which include a new cafeteria, weight room, locker room, training room and TV and radio studios.

Also planned in the new development is a 2,000-square-foot event space that leads out onto a 2,300-square-foot rooftop deck. While this space will be used for day-to-day staff functions, it will also serve as a key entertainment area for sponsors and other visitors to the facility.

On the business side, the construction will allow the Titans to consolidate various departments that had been housed in multiple locations into the same building. Currently, the Titans lease additional space in MetroCenter to accommodate growth and houses its Ticket Sales group at Nissan Stadium. The new space will bring the vast majority of its staff under one roof.

In addition to functional workspace, a two-story, 39,000-square-foot parking garage will add over 100 parking spaces to the facility. ★
